Coral restoration project volunteer sign-up

The World Federation for Coral Conservation (WFCRC) invites the public to help with a coral and coastal restoration project in St Maarten, November 14th, 2017

Volunteers must be at least 18 years old. Swimming skills are required. Volunteers must bring their own snorkel equipment

Volunteers will assist researchers via snorkel, while also enjoying the replanted coral habitat. Volunteers will be asked to help WFCRC with non-technical help such as handing and supplying materials needed to out plant corals while snorkeling, assist with additional photo-monitoring via snorkel and from the beach, and educating the public about the project.

*Pre-registered volunteers will gather at a predetermined location on the day they are volunteering.

In November, WFCRC is looking for at least 2 planting days, with confirmed dates published at the end of October.

Please keep in mind that activities are dependent upon weather, waves and visibility underwater.

Up to five volunteers each day can assist both on land and in the water. All volunteers must have their own snorkeling equipment and are responsible for their own safety in the water.

Coral planting will begin at 9 a.m. and end around 2 p.m., but times can shift depending upon the tides. Any changes in timing will be emailed to volunteers.
